Did That Just Happen?

Have you ever done something embarrassing and were really glad no one saw? Well a few of the Storm players weren't so lucky. Some of their embarrassing moments have been played out in front of a crowd while during a game.

A few players shared their moments with us before heading into the bye week.

Michael Lindsey

Little league, my first touchdown, I played lineman but I picked up a fumble and scored. I wet myself because I was so happy that I scored.

Amarri Jackson

When I was 11, I wet myself on the sidelines while wearing white pants. I was standing there and I was like, "I got to go, I got to go" and we were about to do a kickoff and my aunt said, "Just go, you're going to sweat anyway." And I just wet myself and the whole crowd was like, "look at him." But then I did it all through college; rainy games, I just wet myself; they got to tackle me anyway.

James Harrell

When we played Philly last year, I just got scored on and I went to sit on the bench and I was supposed to be back on the field for field goal and they were calling me for like 20 seconds. I remember hearing my name but I was just staring, still thinking about the play. Somebody hit me, and then I ran to put my helmet on as I was jumping over the fence to get back on the field and my helmet wasn't on all the way and I jumped on the pad and it ripped off from the wall and I fell into the arena and everyone was laughing.

Richard Clebert

When I was in high school, it was a rainy game and my pants got pulled down. At the time I had my little girlfriend there and the whole crowd, it was embarrassing.

Randy Hippeard

In little league, I was pitching and the coach came to take me out of the game. I sat down on the mound and had a temper-tantrum. The coach had to pick me up and carry me off the field. I guess it was time to take me out.

Mario Henderson

It was in one of the biggest games I've played in. So I was so nervous, I decided to eat a big pregame meal for some energy during the game which was a bad idea. I ended up eating spaghetti and pancakes because that is normally what I eat together, and the first play, we did a pass play. We came back to the huddle and as the quarterback was calling and pointing his finger, I threw-up on him, on his hands and it was really embarrassing. They showed it up on the jumbo-tron and replayed it over and over and it was kind of funny but really embarrassing.
